

Punctuation

Fluency is the ability to read text quickly, accurately, and with proper expression.

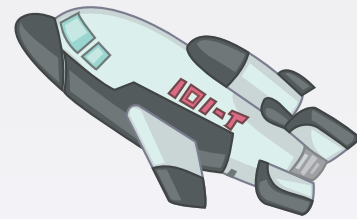

Materials:

- Gameboard (provided)
- List of sentences (provided)
- Penny or other marker

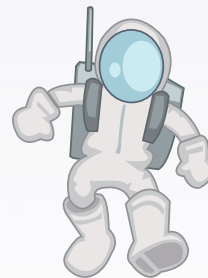

Preparation:

- Print gameboard and a set of sentences related to your theme.
- Cut sentences apart.

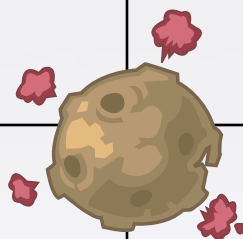

Activity Instructions:

1. Give each family a gameboard and a list of sentences.
2. Each family member take turns tossing the marker onto the gameboard, landing on a punctuation mark.
3. They must then read one of their sentences using expression that reflects that punctuation mark.

!

?

.

!

More than 30 countries have sent people into space

Sally Ride was the first American woman in space

The sun gives off energy-filled particles

The first human to ride into space was from Russia

The Moon has one sixth the gravity of Earth

To be an astronaut you must have a college education

Sally Ride went on a six-day mission in space

Astronauts need to have good eyesight

Everything weighs six times less on the Moon than on Earth

You must fly more than 62 miles above the Earth to be in space

A trip to Mars will take a spaceship nine months

